DR. CRIPPEN VERY TACITURN

POLICE RELYING ON WOMAN

Treating Her With Greatest Kindness -Their Case Believed to be Incomplete.

Quebec, Aug. 2.-Dr. Crippen and Miss Leneve, the two prisoners who have focused the eyes of the world on this old French city on the St. Law rence, slept last night the sleep of complete exhaustion following the ordea of the preceding hours.

Crippen and the girl now face two weeks or more of monotonous waiting There will be no more legal proceed There will be no more legal proceedings in the case until Aug. 8 when they will have another purely formal appearance in court to give them a last opportunity of demanding a writ of habeas corpus or any other legal relief to which they may feel entitled.

Unless they change their expressed intention neither will apply for writes or interfere in any way with the methords adopted by the police to get them back to England.

back to England.
So far as the province of Quebec is concerned legal proceedings are practically closed. The official documents regarding the arrest of the couple and their interrogation by Judges Langelier and Angers of the court of special sessions were forwarded last night to Ottawa for the signature of the governor-general.

The color is beginning not-general.

The color is beginning to return to Miss Leneve's cheeks and this morning the matron at the jail hospital said she looked a trifle less foriorn than when she was taken there yesterday afternoon from the house of Chief of Detectives McCarthy. Miss Leneve, Detectives McCarthy. Miss Leneve, who left the Montrose in garments loaned to her by the ship's stewardess, was today supplied with a neat white dress, which added to the improvement in her appearance.

CRIPPEN IS TACITURN.

CRIPPEN IS TACITURN.

Crippen, taciturn and seeming to a considerable extent to have recovered his composure, has volunteered nothing since his arraignment yesterday which might help the police in solving the mystery surrounding the disappearance of his wife.

The detectives would like to gather from the accused some additional evidence, but unless present signs fail they will receive no help in this line from Dr. Crippen. "Crippen is no fool," said Inspector Dew, and no one questioned his opinion.

Accordingly it is generally believed that the police are resting their hopes on Miss Leneve. If she does not possess the key to the mystery, they think she can at least aid them materially in a reconstruction of the circumstances leading up to the disappearance of Belie Elmore. It is known that Mrs. Crip-Elmore. It is known that Mrs. Crip-pen was jealous of her husband's typist and the police have no doubt that Miss Leneve was aware of this jealousy.

Leneve was aware of this jealousy.

They will not use any "third degree", methods in interviewing Miss Leneve but more subtle influences already are at work. The girl prisoner is being treated with the greatest consideration. She showed the effect of this today, appearing to be much better in body and in mind than on yesterday when, following the collarge after her avrest, she was the collapse after her arrest, she was TREATMENT OF MISS LENEVE.

Miss Leneve has never been placed in a cell here. She has been kept in the room of one of the women employes of the provincial jail, and has been al-lowed occasional outdoor exercise. The attitude toward her of the police is sympathetic. Inspector Dew peatedly said that he believed the girl was innocent of any knowledge of wrongdoing: She has been visited by comen who have treated her most the same time Miss Levene is being bombarded members of her family in Londan urging her to tell all she knows. The pressure of friendliness is being exerted on her, while there is no prospect that she will come in contact with Dr. Crippen or even see him for a long

The purpose in all this is obvious when it is considered that so far as is generally known. Scotland Yard has been unable to identify the dismem-bered body found in the cellar of the crippen home in London. The police case is believed not to be complete.

Even the unemotional Dew, the typical English detective, has been affected by Miss Leneve's plight.

"I am sorry for her," he said today.
"I don't believe she knew anything showt it."

While the Canadian and English laws strictly prohibit any attempt by police to obtain a confession and pecially forbid "third degree" tack if the girl should express a desire to make revelations the police say that they would accept her statement after she had been warned that anything said might be used against her at her trial.

Thus far, in her moments of extreme shock and weakness the police assert.
Crippen's companion has remained loyal to him so far as her silence is loyalty.

The police have denied all requests to see and speak with the prisoner and threw up their hands in amazement at the idea of a newspaper interview. Plea of Defense Will be Justifiable Homicide Under the Statutes.

SHORT ORDER JURY SECURED.

State Will Try to Prove Premeditated Murder on Circumstantial Evidence.

PROVO, Aug. 2.-The case of the state vs Claude H. Clive is now on trial in the Fourth district court. The case was commenced yesterday morning and rapid progress was made in securing a jury, nine being accepted yesterday and the remaining three this forenoon. The jury which will try the ase are: J. H. Clinger, Lake View; S D. Johnson, Springville; Joseph Smith, George Ekins, Pleasant View; Smith, George Ekins, Picasant View, Marion Holdaway, George A. Startup, H. J. W. Goddard, George J. Ex-Soldier Recalls How Favorites Se cured the Best Stations.

Detective Schultz, formerly a sergeant in Light Battery D. Fifth United State artillery, remarked today, the act'o of the war department in locating the Twenty-second infantrty at Fort Sam Houston, about the hottest part of Texas, after two years of service in Alaska. He says the result will be numerous leaths in that regiment during the next few months. He recalls how his battery was changed from North Dakota where the mercury drops in winter to 40 degrees below, to the same Texas post. Fort Sam Houston, while the Twenty-fifth infantry, colored, was shifted from the Texas post to North Dakota. The result was the negroes "died off like flies." The sergeant also recalls the fact that his battery was also transferred from Savannah to Fort Omaha late in the fall, to the intense discomfort of the command. He calls attention to the fact that such things are the result of "a pull." Profitable Practise at Ft. Douglas Forerunner of National Meet At Camp Perry.

SOME REMARKABLE WORK.

Sergeants Anderson, Gardiner and Nielson, Capt. Kneass and Private* Amundsen Make Splendid Scores,

The rifle practise which has been held at Fort Douglas the past week, in preparation for the national match at Camp Perry, O., has been a profitable one for the Utah experts and it now remains to be proven whether the team will be able to keep up its remarkable score making. The boys have been working hard and the result is some high averages at all ranges. Since the practise commenced the scores have been continually on the improve and the final day's practise leads all by several points on the total.

The team will go to camp in Wyoming with the guard and while there will put in hard practise under the coaching of Capt. Kneass, in aiming and trigger pulling, and the work cer-tainly will be profitable, as the ma-jority of the practise on all big teams is without loaded ammunition. The camp will break Aug. 12, when the guard will return to the city, but the rifle team will go on to Perry, arriving several days prior to the national match. During this time the boys will be entered in the individual matches, in order to find the elevations. Although each man knows his elevations here, they might change enough to pull down a score

The officers who will accom-pany the team on the trip are Adjutant General Wedgwood, as team captain; Maj. Williams of the First battalion as range officer; Maj. Kammerman of the Second battalion will act as spotter, and Lieut. Sorensen will be pit man; Lieut. Walthall, coach.

While at Perry on the two days of preliminary practise for all teams in general, the Utah men will shoot for 80 and 90 per cent medals, which are given by the Ohio State Rifle associa-tion. Each man must purchase a 25-cent ticket and in case his score is high enough, the medal will be award-

SAGE HEN POACHERS.

Deputy Game Warden Joseph Smith Deputy Game Warden Joseph Smith was sent to Coalville recently by Commissioner Chambers to watch sage hen hunters. On the 28th ult. the deputy caught four Greeks violating the law red handed, and they were consequently gathered in by the officer. They will appear for trial Wednesday, before the justice at Coalville. The penalty ranges from $50 to $100, and Mr. Chambers thinks the latter figure will be about the fine imposed. The commissioner has also men watching the stream dynamiters, with whom it will go hard when caught.
